Court Dismisses Charges Against Two Deputies

Indictments against two Madison county sheriff's deputies were dismissed in Madison county circuit court Tuesday by Chief Circuit Judge William Beatty on a motion by State's Atty. R. W. Griffith.

The two deputies, Investigators Duane Nicholas and Robert Rizz, were indicted by the county grand jury last week in connection with transportation reimbursement claims for allegedly transporting prisoners in their private autos.

Sheriff George Musso, meanwhile, announced that he will ask the county board of supervisors for authority to modernize the sheriff's department to eliminate it as a fee office and change the system of transportation reimbursements, as recommended by the grand jury. The county board meets on Sept. 8.

Musso's term ends in December. He is a candidate for county treasurer. The Democratic nominee for sheriff, John Maeras, current treasurer, also would take steps to reorganize the department.

Louis Bowman, Republican nominee for sheriff, made the complaints which led to a long grand jury investigation of the mileage reimbursement practice.

A former deputy, Bowman once teamed with Nicholas in the department's investigation division.

In his dismission motion, Griffith said a careful review of the grand jury's report indicates that a criminal proceeding is inconsistent with the findings.

The deficiencies in the present system of operation and management of the sheriff's office were not created by the defendants, he said.

The dismissal motion continued that "the recommendations contained in the grand jury report relative to changes in existing practices in procedure in the sheriff's office have been or will be adopted."

GC Police to Exhibit Marijuana at Show

A thick patch of marijuana was found growing wild along some railroad tracks in Granite City Wednesday afternoon by police.

Officer William Harris, a specialist in narcotics, retrieved one large plant for display at the Rotary Club Home Show this weekend.

The plant, about 10 feet tall with a base of 1 to 1½ inches, was found growing wild along some railroad tracks in Granite City Wednesday afternoon by police.

The rest of the wild-growing patch was being cut down and destroyed by city employees today.

Venice Marine Awarded Navy Cross

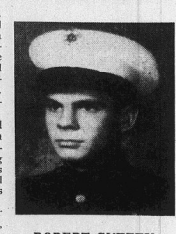

Marine Corporal Robert C. Guffey of Venice, wounded earlier this year while on a special forces mission in Vietnam, Japan and California, has been awarded the Navy Cross for bravery and gallantry in action, it was announced this week by U. S. Marine authorities in Washington, D. C.

The Navy Cross is conferred only for extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an opposing Armed Force. The award ranks second to the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military decoration.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Mayer L. Guffey, 207 Granite street, Venice, the medal winner currently is home on a 30-day convalescent leave from the U. S. Naval Hospital at Oakland, Calif.

Since mid-February, the 19-year-old Marine has been confined in military hospitals in Vietnam, Japan and California and has undergone surgery on several occasions. The latest operation, occurring just five weeks ago, was one in a series of corrective surgical measures to rebuild his left ankle.

Marine Cpl. Guffey was shot three times in the ankle on Feb. 18, when his special forces team was enroute to Da Nang,

City Cuts New Tax Levy by $580,000

Less Funds For Sewer Maintenance Accounts For Total Reduction

A new tax levy of $2,729,672 for the current 1970-71 fiscal year was approved by the Granite City council Monday night in a vote that was clouded with uncertainty until the final few minutes of the session when Mayor Donald Partney ruled that a motion for approval of the tax levy had carried.

Earlier, the mayor had declined the motion to read the new tax levy ordinance, which took 17 minutes to read, is a decrease of $580,000 below the levy for the 1969-70 fiscal year, but the drop is more than covered by a single item—the sewer maintenance fund which is reduced by $692,900 in the new levy.

The new levy is extended against a 1970-71 appropriation bill calling for projected expenditures this year totaling $3,188,015, and therefore appears based on figures that do not take into consideration the city's income from outside sources such as the state income tax, motor fuel tax, sales tax, parking meter operations and tax commissions.

Levy Budget Amounts

Despite a budget reduction this year of more than a half million dollars to the $3,188,015 figure, the council, by its action Monday night, levied for the extension of taxes within $468,347 of the total amount the city has said in its budget that it will need to pay all operating costs during the year.

On this basis the budget does not take into account about $1.5 millions in "outside income" which includes state income tax, income tax, sale of licenses, permits and other revenue.

With exception of the sewer maintenance fund, the new tax levy represents an increase in the overall demands from the taxpayers.

Last year's official tax levy certified by County Clerk E. J. Holt, totaled $3,530,177. This figure included, however, an extension of $228,456 for payment of bond principal and interest.

A bond and interest cost will be added to this year's levy and, is expected to increase the overall levy to $3,254,672.

Last year's levy included a $100,000 increase for sewer maintenance purposes because of the high cost of repairing sewer breaks last year and early this year.

Accounts for Reduction

The new levy includes only $153,547 for sewer maintenance, absorbing all, and more, (Continued on page 9, col. 4)

$350,000 Approved by Slim Majority; Cost To Total $2 Millions

An agreement under which Granite City will join with Madison county in the extension of Maryville road from Pontoon road to Highway 162 was approved by the city council Monday night.

The agreement included appropriation of $350,000 in city funds to finance the city's share of the project.

Total cost of constructing the four-lane highway of slightly more than three miles is estimated at $2 millions.

The proposed new roadway described by some city officials as a "boon to future development of the area" was approved by some aldermen, with Alderman Walter Nonn spearheading the opposition.

Mayor Partney said the agreement which is necessary to city participation in the construction plan, and therefore vital to the overall program, carried by such a small vote that Mayor Partney was re-

GC School Budget Up $1.3 Millions

Appropriations Total $20.4 Millions; Public Hearing Set Sept. 28

A tentative budget totaling $20,483,816, an increase of $1,346,623 over that of last year, was adopted by the Granite City board of education for the 1970-71 school year during a meeting Monday night.

The budget includes $12,985,993 for the educational fund, up $1,502,449; $892,558 for the building fund, up $94,040; $1,103,088 for the bond and interest fund, down $100,356; $340,560 for the transportation fund, up $73,660; $389 for the municipal retirement fund, up $56,616, and $4,800,576 for the site and new bus fund, down $78,897.

Final adoption will follow a public meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 28 in the school district administrative office, but where the budget will be posted for a 30-day period.

The proposed estimated levy to be raised by taxes is $7.119, 182, an increase of $17,722, with the tax rate at $3.541 per $100 assessed valuation, compared to $3.530 a year ago.

Reduced Valuation

The increase in the tax rate is due to the reduction of assessed valuation for 1970, estimated at $213 million, compared to a valuation of $224,264,383 last year. The drop was caused by the Homestead Exemption Act and the car and furniture exemption granted for this year.

The total increase in the new budget is about half the amount of the increase of $3,012,780 in last year's budget.

Teachers salaries continue to be the principal reason for the appropriation hike, but it was noted in the budget presentation that 21 new teaching positions have been added to the staff because of increased enrollment, expansion of the special education program and an attempt to keep class sizes reasonable.

Salary Increases

The total increase in teachers salaries is $1,523,212. Other increased costs brought the total rise for instructional purposes to $1,154,144.

The increase in the administrative account is $64,847, including $30,567 which reflects one new person on the staff and the retirement salary hikes of $32,740.

Bulk of an increase of $157,211 in the maintenance account is in salaries, while the adult education account shows a decrease of $7720.

The educational fund increases include $8010 in the athletic program, $6900 in books and supplies resale and $70,412 in the lunch program, all in salaries.

The building fund provides a fourth installment of $50,000 plus interest on the State Lumber Co. facilities which were converted into the district administration building.

New Buildings

The site and new building fund will provide for construction of an elementary school and a junior high school scheduled to begin this year.

The transportation fund will be $72,680 greater, due to increased cost of operation, an increase in the number of pupils transported and initiation of transportation of kindergarten pupils at runtime.

Anticipation warrants of about $80,000 may be needed before the end of the school year, according to the report. The district has operated without anticipation warrants since July 1, 1963.

The report noted that a total of $141,817 was earned from investment of temporarily idle operational funds. Interest revenue during the past years has totaled $466,905.

Special Council Meeting To Air Sick Leave Issue

Faced with strong opposition from union officials and city employees, the Granite City council delayed action Monday night on a proposal to eliminate pay for the first three days of sick leave for city employees and called a special meeting for Monday night to give the issue a complete airing.

In a lengthy debate on whether or not immediate action should be taken, the council defeated a motion that future enforcement of the present sick leave ordinance covering city employees be placed in the hands of Mayor Donald Partney and that no other action be taken immediately by the council. Supporters of that suggestion maintained the present ordinance "is strong enough to take care of all the problems."

An ordinance that would have eliminated salary payments for the first three days of sick leave was to have been presented in Monday night's meeting, but action was delayed after a series of letters from officials of city employees' unions, and one from Chief of Police Ronald Veizer, were read as communications by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

Protest 'Abuse'
Council members have been protesting a mounting cost for sick leave payments and in recent weeks have cited several instances of "abuse" of the sick leave benefits. Sick leave payments for the last half of August totaled $2550. Finance Committee Chairman R. E. Robertson said the figure "brings to nearly $5000 the total outlay for sick leave in August."

The sick leave controversy developed in the Aug. 17 council session when Mayor Partney told the council of several instances of sick leave payments that he considered "unjustified." The mayor charged that in one instance a policeman who had been hurt in a tavern brawl had collected sick leave for time off.

William Warfield, superintendent of streets, told council members that sick leave problems would never be solved under the present ordinance until regulations were "spelled out" in detail. Suggestion that sick leave would not be reduced until the city cut off payments for the first three days was made by Alderman Gerald Partney, followed by a motion by Alderman Paul Rutledge that an ordinance to that effect be brought in.

Letters of Protest
In Monday night's meeting, however, City Clerk Stevens read letters of protest to such action from Robert Astorian and Harry Mitchell, president and vice-president of the Police Department Union Local 1347 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, from James M. Coffey, business representative of the Sanitary Engineers International Union Local 88, from Mary Schaffner and Virginia McLester, representing city hall employees, and from Veizer.

Veizer told the council that he believed the police department has done an excellent job of cutting sick leave benefits since the council left responsibility for policing the sick leave problem with the department heads. He said that last year, before sick leave problems were turned over to department heads, the police department had 241 days of sick leave which included $1 for injury on duty, eight and a half for death in families and five days unauthorized, leaving 186½ days of leave for illness. During the first six months of this year, Veizer said in his letter, there were only 65 days of sick leave benefits, of which three were for injury on duty, five due to family deaths and six unauthorized, leaving 51 days and seven hours of leave due to illness.

The other letters requested city officials to meet with union representatives and city employees before taking action cutting off pay for the first three days of sick leave. Alderman Rutledge suggested that instead of taking any action, the council refer enforcement of the present sick leave ordinance to the mayor.

Partney, however, said he wanted a vote of the council to council and get my neck cut," the mayor said. Alderman S. M. Whimer asked several questions about the present ordinance and was handed a copy with the request that he read it. Whimer did so. It was brought out that the ordinance requires that physician's reports in sick leave cases be brought before the council and Stevens was instructed to do so in the future.

Rutledge said he believed the answer to all sick leave problems lies in enforcement of the ordinance and suggested again the mayor be permitted to handle it. On a roll call vote that Mayor Partney take over enforcement, the motion lost 7 to 6.

The issue was passed temporarily to dispose of other business, but Alderman Whimer

SIU Destinies In Good Hands, Dr. Morris Says

Southern Illinois University is in excellent shape and its destinies are in good hands, DeWitt W. Morris told the SIU board of trustees in his farewell message as president. He is attending an International Association of Universities meeting in Montreal, Canada.

Morris will step down from active administration of the University Tuesday after 22 years as its chief officer. His former duties will be vested in an administrative council to serve during a one-year transitional period.

"My great confidence in the future," Morris said, "is based in the obvious fact that the University fills a genuine need in our area." He also pointed to its position of world leadership in international studies, its new professional schools, and the environmental and ecological programs now on the horizon.

"I stand ready to support the chancellors and vice presidents in any way they desire in regard to these new programs," Morris said.

Sense of Release

On a personal note: "Although after 22 years I have naturally found some wrench in making adjustments, I already feel a distinct sense of release and relief at the prospect of being freed from the burdens of day-to-day administration."

Morris discounted fears expressed by faculty members in connection with university reorganization. Changes in governance at the level of the board of trustees, the president and the central administration generally do not much affect the activities of the colleges, divisions, departments and service offices of the university.

"Let me restate that the University is in excellent shape to make new voyages of discovery during the next three years and to weather any storms encountered on the way."

"It is manned by many of the most intelligent, resourceful, energetic and dedicated people I have ever known."

Mrs. Manogian Heads Den Mother Reserve

The Den Mother Reserve, representing the Uniwah (Quad-City) Boy Scout district, met Tuesday night at Mrs. Lorraine Stawar's home, 2569 Buenger blvd. She is the retiring chairman.

The group elected Mrs. Marlene Manogian as chairman and discussed plans for cub scout leader training to be held at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 5, 12, 19 and 26 at Suburban Baptist Church, 2600 St. Clair avenue.

"It is vital for all adult scouts to have the training," Mrs. Manogian said. "If all the cub scouts, aged 8-10, are to receive the best possible program."

The instruction is for unit leaders, assistant unit leaders, Webelos leaders, den mothers, assistant den mothers, den leaders, coaches, committee chairmen, committeemen, institutional representatives and other persons interested in scouting.

Mrs. Arlene Laub was elected "pow wow" chairman. Others present were Mesdames Phyllis Brusatti, Barbara Shanks, Mary Tarpoff and Pat Foote; Ron Luebben, district cub scout trainer; Charles Overath, Uniwah district training chairman; and Bill Irelan, district scout executive.

REO SPEEDWAGON, a rock group new to this area, which will be featured at the YMCA Teen Town dance tonight. Well-known in the Champaign-Urbana region, Speedwagon will play from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. at the Y gymnasium. Regular admission prices will be charged for the dance session.

Venice Center Upgrading Job Skills for 150

Problems encountered in meeting human needs at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center were discussed by Mrs. Pat Goebel, counselor at the center, as she addressed a Granite City Rotary club luncheon in the YMCA.

Mrs. Goebel is involved in the testing and counseling aspects of the center's operation. In that capacity, she works with nearly 150 welfare recipients, the corps members and other students, suggesting programs which will lead them to a high school diploma or equivalent.

She also suggests technical job training to help them find and hold well-paid and satisfying jobs utilizing their skills.

Wayne Shelton was chairman of the program. On Tuesday, Sept. 1, the guest speaker will be State Senator Merrill Otwein, whose topic will be "Life in the General Assembly."

Rock Groups Featured Today, Monday at Y

"Reo Speedwagon," a music group from the Champaign-Urbana area, will perform from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. today at the YMCA Teen Town dance, Charles Hasse, youth director announced today. Regular admission will be charged for the session, to take place in the Granite City YMCA gymnasium.

The final dance of the Teen Town's summer schedule is set for Monday in the YMCA gym, featuring the music of the "U. S. Kids," a four-piece combo also from the northern Illinois area. Both groups are widely-known for "good" rock and contemporary music, Hasse said.

The Y Teen Town's fall dance program, scheduled to open on Sept. 12, will spotlight sessions each Saturday evening at the Granite City YMCA.

Star Finders to Hold Auditions at Frohardt

An opportunity to discover the fascinating world of the theatre is being offered local youth wishing to take part in the musical version of "Tom Sawyer," the first production scheduled to be presented this fall by the Star Finders, a youth theatre group.

Auditions for young people between the ages of ten and 18 will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Frohardt grade school auditorium. Roles open include 12 speaking parts, according to the Star Finders organizers, William Snedecor and Mrs. Carol Hopper.

The "Tom Sawyer" production will be offered the public in performances on Oct. 23 and 24 at Granite City high school. The cast will include 26 speaking roles, plus vocal and dancing choruses, Mrs. Hopper said. The Star Finders was organized last fall with the assistance of Frohardt Parent-Teachers Association and the Masquers theatre group. Four one-act plays were presented last spring, with cast members mostly drawn from Frohardt students.

The organization since has been opened to any young person, ten to 18 years, who attends local schools, Mrs. Hopper announced.

Nameoki Board to Meet Tonight on Voucher Problem

A recessed meeting of the Nameoki town board is to be held tonight in an effort to reach agreement between town board members and Supervisor Harry Briggs regarding a system for issuing checks and vouchers in payment of town bills.

All bills were denied approval in the regular meeting of the board Monday night when Briggs told board members he could not provide checks along with the bills submitted for payment. Bills also were held up by the board in the Aug. 10 meeting when Briggs was absent.

A month ago the town board approved a resolution that required Briggs to submit checks for payment of bills at the same time bills were submitted for approval by the town board. Louis Whitsell, town clerk, said such procedure was necessary because he was unable to get matching vouchers from Briggs and he is unable to keep the town books.

Wants Safe in Office
Briggs told the board that if a safe was put into the town office, he would leave the checkbooks there so Whitsell could check payments. Arrangements were made to purchase a safe.

The board recessed during the meeting to permit a session of the board of Health to consider a complaint that a water-filled basement and foundation on Angela drive was creating a health hazard and a danger to children. Residents of the area said the foundation was left by the subdivider of the Angela drive area.

The Board of Health, made up of the supervisor, the town clerk, and the township assessor, decided to notify the developer that the basement structure is a hazard.

To Use Town Funds
The board will contact the state's attorney's office to determine if town funds can be used for removal of the foundation and a weed patch that has grown in and around it.

The board was told residents in the area of University and Arlington avenues in State Park place have petitioned the county highway department for drainage improvements in the area. A public hearing will be held at University and Arlington at 10 a.m. tomorrow, it was reported. Town board members took no action on a request by Highway Commissioner Charles Hanks that the tax rate for the road and bridge fund be raised to a maximum of 16.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Under the law the highway department has a maximum of 12.5 cents unless the rate is raised by approval of the board to the 16.5-cent figure.

CONDITIONING SPRINTS occupied Granite City high school varsity football candidates yesterday afternoon during the second of the opening day

SCRAMBLING DRILLS for Warrior varsity gridiron prospects yesterday included opportunities to run with the ball and to block for runners while dodging between obstacles, simulating broken-field running during a game.

124--Count Them, 124--Gridiron Candidates Report to Warriors

"We're way ahead of last year at this time," reports Granite City high school head football coach Wayne Williams. Since this is Coach Williams' second year with the Warriors, he already knows many of the boys and what they are capable of doing.

During the first day of pre-season football practice yesterday, 62 varsity candidates attended practice and there were over 60 sophomore hopefuls present.

Conditioning exercises were the order of the day on the field for the first day and Coach Williams said that they will continue through Saturday, when he hopes to be able to begin some contact work.

A larger coaching staff was also on hand to help get the team into shape. While Williams worked with the varsity offensive backs yesterday, Don Miller worked with the defensive backs, Tom Wyrostek drilled the defensive line and Stan Wojcik worked to get the offensive line into shape.

Working with the sophomores were Russ Chappell and Robert Stegemeir. Chuck Mizerski was also on hand to help with both teams.

STADIUM LIGHTS SILHOUETTED against the late afternoon sky Wednesday, opening day for 1970 high school football preparations, sophomore players utilize blocking dummies to aid them in getting into top condition for the fall schedule.

MORE ABOUT Venice Marine

which accompanied the Navy Cross is in the safe-keeping of his fiancée, Miss Kathy Friend of Napa, Calif. The couple met prior to the Marine's departure from Vietnam and became engaged during his hospital confinement at the Oakland base.

Cpl. Guffey enlisted in the Marines on Feb. 10, 1969. He reported for active duty on June 10, 1969, immediately following his graduation from Venice high school.

Special Forces Volunteer He volunteered for special forces duty and was accepted for concentrated training in underwater demolition, paratrooper instruction and Ranger expertise. He earned his paratrooper wings and UDT rating at installations in California.

As a member of a select force, the Marine was unable to disclose his destination prior to leaving the United States, or communicate his whereabouts to his parents during the entire period of his mission overseas, it was learned.

Serving in Vietnam at the time Cpl. Guffey was wounded was the Marine's older brother, Air Force Sgt. Jerry Bartlett of Venice. By coincidence Sgt. Bartlett was stationed at Da Nang—the original pickup point for the returning UDT team members before the encounter with the N.V.A. patrol.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Aug. 27, 1970 Page 9

Sgt. Bartlett arrived Monday at Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, N. M., from Vietnam. He is expected home on leave with his family shortly.

Despite the fact he faces additional corrective surgery upon his return to the Oakland hospital next month, Cpl. Guffey continues to display a high degree of enthusiasm when discussing the Marine Corps and particularly his specialized branch of the service.

He commented yesterday—"I hope to return to duty with another special forces unit as quickly as possible."

State Recognition

The board was informed by letter from Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, that the district has been extended full recognition for all attendance centers for the 1969-70 school year.

The decision was based upon an evaluation of the total educational program through visitation by supervisors, a study of the annual report, a review of conditions found at the last visitation and a recommendation by the Madison county superintendent of schools.

The board agreed to increase the charge for adult plate lunches served in school cafeterias from 50 and 55 cents to a flat rate of 75 cents. It was determined that the average cost of preparing adult plate lunches was 66.11 cents.

Special Education Tuition

The board authorized payment of tuition and transportation of four pupils to special education centers at Edwardsville and St. Louis. The Yellow Cab Co. was contracted to provide transportation. Eighty per cent of the cost is reimbursed by the government.

Fun at Day Camp for 150 Ends ENP Program Season

More than 150 youngsters participated this month in Day Camp activities at Lee Park in Venice to wind up the summer season of the Expanded Nutrition Program, the first of its kind ever conducted in the area under direction of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The children, ranging in age from eight to 16, played games, painted plaster figures, sang and generally had fun, with noon lunch served by program assistants from Granite City, Madison and Venice.

The program was presented, like the others sponsored by the Extension Service, to meet needs of the people and to solve specific problems that arise. Attention of the service has been focused recently on helping certain groups in rural and urban areas with limited incomes.

Program assistants who are trained by the Cooperative Extension Service under direction of Catherine Mauck, Extension adviser, and Cathy Helregel, assistant adviser, go to their neighbors and provide personal educational help.

Adhering to the concept that people best may be reached through the children, advisers of the Expanded Nutrition Program have been working throughout the summer with approximately 250 youngsters in the area.

The children have been taught simple food preparation and basic nutrition. One program assistant said that her boys—five of them aged 10 to 12—were really excited about making a one-egg cake and enjoyed the cooking because they sometimes could "out-do" the girls.

Program assistants employed in the Expanded Nutrition Program are Leora Howlett, Jewel Young, Rosetta Koonce and Janie Kemp, all of Madison; Drew Johnson, of Venice, and Ann Parrill and Wilma Hancock of Granite City.

OCTAVIA CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Jo Ann Jarrell, 2812 Iowa street, entertained the Octavia Birthday club at a luncheon in her home Monday afternoon.

The birthday of Mrs. Doris Stotz was observed. The group, which includes members of the Early Bird Bowling league which will resume activities Sept. 14 at Bowland, discussed rules and regulations of the game. Mrs. Vivian Davis, secretary of the league, announced that a meeting will be held Aug. 31 at 9:30 a.m. at Bowland.

The honoree was presented with a gift on behalf of the members and a rose from the hostess' daughter, Patti. Dinner was served to the honored guest and her son, Kelly, the hostess' husband, Earl, and daughters, Vicki and Ann Marie; Mrs. Davis and daughters, Susan and Carol Anne; Mrs. Mary Feynizko and daughter, Magdalene; and daughter, Patty; Mrs. Virginia Mariette and Mrs. Shirley Murphy.

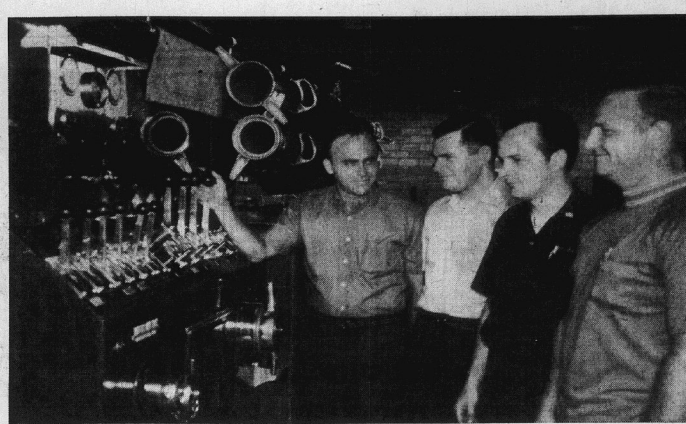

Mrs. Davis, 2829 Dogwood drive, will host the October gathering in honor of Mrs. Murphy.

The neighborhood service team of Neighborhood Three Girl Scout leaders met in the home of Mrs. Doris Stotz, 2571 Hodges avenue, Tuesday morning, with the chairman, Mrs. Vivian Davis, to make plans for the first meeting of the 1970-71 terms which will be held at Wilson Park Sept. 10 at shelter 5, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Mrs. Mary Feynizko and Mrs. Stotz will be in charge of the Sept. 10 meeting that will be a test of outdoor skills in cooking. Leaders are to make reservation with their consultants by Sept. 8. Consultants are to contact their assigned troop leaders for an evaluation of all levels of camping.

Mrs. Davis informed the service team of plans for participating in Charity Days at Nameless Village Sept. 17-18, and the United Fun Fair Oct. 3-4. Each leader has been asked to donate six homemade articles to sell at charity days and six handicraft items for the game booth at the fun fair. There will be a Cadette event Oct. 9-10-11-12 at Camp Chan-Ya-Ta and the chairman urged the Neighborhood Service Team to attend an open district 4 meeting Sept. 17 at the Trinity Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m.

A discussion was held on the neighborhood needs including training for new leaders and a patrol leader training course. A junior program scheduled for Sept. 3 at Camp Chan-Ya-Ta has been postponed. Leaders will be informed of the new agenda. Following adjournment, refreshments were served. Mrs. Velma Collins, secretary, will be hostess for a Sept. 22 meeting at the Stotz home.

NEW FIRE FIGHTERS whose appointments to the Granite City department have just been approved by the city council inspect equipment they

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY. Dr. and Mrs. W. Howard Ketrings, 3173 Carlson avenue, who will observe the 50th anniversary of their marriage Monday, Aug. 31.

Ketrings to Observe Golden Anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. W. Howard Ketrings, 3173 Carlson avenue, will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary Monday, Aug. 31, in Farmington, Mo., at the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Ketrings and daughter, Nancy, who is a student there.

Dr. W. H. Ketrings, a local chiropractor, and his wife, the former Miss Edna Colman, are the parents of three sons and have four grandchildren.

Their other sons and daughters-in-law are Dr. and Mrs. Eldon Grant Ketrings and children, Kathleen, a college student, Mary, a high school student, and Charles, a junior high student, of Riverside, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ketrings, of Carlinville, Ill.

Dr. W. H. Ketrings' life closely paralleled that of his twin brother, J. H. Ketrings, who died five years ago; the two married twin sisters. Mrs. J. H. Ketrings, the former Miss Emma Colman, resides in Carbondale. Her late husband was a major in the Illinois National Guard, based at the headquarters in Springfield.

Both brothers served in world war I, being assigned to the same units, and both graduated from Manchester College.

And both of the golden anniversary celebrants have something in common, besides their long marriage: they are teachers.

Mrs. W. H. Ketrings taught for 20 years in the Granite City school district and currently is a substitute teacher. She is a graduate of McKendree College. Her husband has taught at McKendree College, Lebanon, and at the Missouri Chiropractic College, St. Louis.

The couple was married in 1920 in St. Charles, Mo., and have lived in this area for the past 45 years. Mr. Ebe retired in 1967 as chief electrician in the Blast Furnace Division of the Granite City Steel Co. He is now employed as a sales representative for Hopcroft Electric Co., and also represents Midstate Realty Co. Mrs. Ebe is now a patient in St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Checkerboard Dance Honors Charm Grads

A moonlight cruise held recently on the SS Admiral was the climax of a charm school class conducted this summer by the Checkerboard Squares.

The class was another facet of the training of Checkerboard members under the tutoring of Mrs. Suzanne Greene, assisted by Misses Sherine and Shelly Boyd.

Prior to the boat trip, members had photographs taken in the rock gardens of Wilson Park and completed the evening with a buffet lunch at the Boyd residence.

In addition to the charm school graduation, the evening served as a welcome party for Midshipman 1st Class Glenn Barrowman of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and Dave Hollis of Springfield, who were house guests of the Bob Boyd family.

It also served as a going away party for Specialist 5 Gary Barron, a Checkerboard alumnus. His request for a city flag while on duty in Vietnam was responsible for the recent flag design contest for children in the Quad-Cities.

Since his return from Vietnam, Barron has served as chaperone on several Checkerboard trips and has worked with the group in square dancing. He introduced some new "soul dancing" steps he learned in the service. He is to return to Vietnam for another tour of duty.

Barrowman, who has visited Granite City during the past two years, will return to the academy for his final year. He is a straight A student on the dean's list and will be head football manager.

A new charm class will be announced later. Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Siebert, Gene Goff, Sp/5 Gary Barron and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Greene.

Coal or Gas at SIU Campus is Being Studied

A recommendation that Southern Illinois University switch from coal to gas for steam generation at its Carbondale campus has been sent back to engineering consultants for further study.

SIU's board of trustees has just received a second opinion saying that conversion could be costly and that mechanical dust collectors could adequately handle particulate emissions from the existing coal-fired steam plant at SIU.

A 10-year plan for upgrading SIU's campus utilities system, received by the board in January, had urged conversion to pollution-free gas boilers in future expansion. It said that if a favorable gas rate couldn't be negotiated, existing and new coal-fired units should be equipped with electrostatic precipitators that would take out 98% of fly ash and foreign matter from boiler gases.

The report was submitted by Consoer, Townsend and Associates of Chicago. The SIU board sought a backup opinion from Stanley Consultants, Inc. of Muscatine, Ia., before beginning action on the 10-year plan.

The second firm's review claimed that coal is now much more economical than gas and that gas supplies are short because of regulatory policies. It said that mechanical collectors could control emissions at levels well below state standards and would cost much less than precipitators.

The board hired Consoer, Townsend and Associates to complete a supplementary report that will investigate the efficiency of

Ogilvie Releases Funds to Study Park Operations

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has released $32,000 to the Illinois Department of Conservation for a study of concessions and for improvements, repairs and maintenance at state parks, memorials and conservation areas.

Acting Director Dan Malkovich said that $51,000 is released for a study of lodge and restaurant facilities. The study should determine whether lessors are using the best methods in operating the facilities, whether the amount the state spends is justifiable, and set guidelines for future operation of the concessions, Malkovich said. A firm of certified public accountants has been engaged to assist in the study.

Other purposes for which the money is to be used are: To repair sewers, water systems, roofs, roads, bridges and electrical and plumbing systems in various parks, $100,000 appropriated from the State Parks Fund.

For minor improvements usually costing less than $1,500, including work on toilets, boat docks, sidewalks and pumps, $100,000 from the General Revenue Fund.

For projects under $1,500, including labor, planting materials and supplies for development work, $30,000 from the Game and Fish Fund.

For rehabilitation of the game farm near Meigs, Vernon in Jefferson County, an initial release of $20,000 from the Game and Fish Fund for payrolls for machine operators, carpenters and laborers and the purchase of miscellaneous items.

Malkovich said bids are not required on projects costing less than $1,500.

Warning by Scott on Heating Contractors

Illinois Attorney-General William J. Scott this week warned property owners against unscrupulous heating and furnace contractors or persons posing as building inspectors who insist that heating facilities must be overhauled because of the state's new air pollution law.

Using the new state air pollution laws to make people think that their heating facilities need a thorough inspection and possible modification or overhaul is a new avenue of fraud that should be "stopped before it becomes widespread," according to Scott's chief of Consumer Fraud and Protection, Howard R. Kaufman.

Kaufman said there has been a new wave of disreputable contractors, inspectors, heating experts and others who insist that home owners spend a great deal of money for unnecessary work. They claim that if the work is not done, the homeowner will be fined for non-compliance with the pollution regulations, the consumer protection chief said.

Scott advised homeowners to deal only with reputable heating contractors known in their own community. He said he joins with the majority of reliable heating contractors in warning homeowners that work done by disreputable contractors may be shoddy and substandard.

The attorney general advised homeowners who have been approached by so-called "building inspectors" to verify the identity of the inspectors, and also to check on the reputation of any contractors they plan to deal with.

If anyone has been the victim of unscrupulous practices on the part of heating contractors, he may inform the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Fraud and Protection Division, 134 N. LaSalle street, Chicago.

Daily Expense Per Hospital Patient Heading Toward $80

The 257 community hospitals in Illinois reported total expenses of $1 billion in 1969, Henry J. Kutsch, president of the Illinois Hospital Association, announced today. Kutsch, president of the Ravenswood Hospital Medical Center, Chicago, said this was a 17.4% increase over the total expenses reported by these hospitals in 1968. Average expense per patient day increased from $62.24 in 1968 to $71.12 last year, Kutsch predicted that it will be more than $80 per patient day before the end of 1970. He also reported that the average length of stay in Illinois hospitals was 9.0 days, more than a half-day longer than the national average. The data is from the 1969 hospital survey of the American Hospital Association. "Payroll continues to be the major factor in the growth of hospital's total expenses," Kutsch said. Illinois community hospitals employed 110,666 people last year. He said this amounts to a hospital employing 275 health care workers for every 100 patients, compared to 259 employees per 100 patients in 1968. The Community hospitals in the state reported $618 million paid in wages and salaries in 1969, a 15.5% increase over the $535 million paid the previous year. Bigger Staff, Wages. "Part of this jump in payroll is due to the increase in technical personnel needed to provide higher level of patient care. However," Kutsch pointed out, "the really significant increase is caused by trying to keep pace with the wage adjustments in other industries." Kutsch said hospitals are already feeling pressure for higher paychecks, caused by recent inflationary increases in wages in the construction, trucking, utilities, auto and steel industries. "But the sad fact is," he commented, "that these wage increases enable the hospital employees to just hold their own in the cost of living spiral." The major expense to hospitals in providing health care is the payroll for the people who provide the care," Kutsch said. "As long as the pressure for higher wages continues, the cost of health care will continue to rise." Kutsch said most of the hospitals in Illinois are non-federal community general hospitals. There are 312 hospitals in the state registered by the AHA last year. This total count includes all federal hospitals, long-term groups and both voluntary and governmental agencies.

GC Ends Four-Month Delay, Renews Engineering Pact

The Granite City council, after a four-month delay, approved Monday night the renewal of a contract for engineering services with Research Planning and Design Associates of St. Louis.

Action on the contract renewal came after presentation of a letter from Kenneth Kleeberger, representative of the St. Louis firm who serves as the city's consulting engineer, in which he pointed out that the company has received no payment for services since May 1 due to council delay in acting on the contract.

Mayor Donald Partney pointed out that at the beginning of the fiscal year he had suggested that the firm provide services only until a small budget balance ran out. The mayor noted that because of a shortage of funds in the past he has made no appointment of an engineer.

Alderman Walter Norn protested that the city now has a long list of projects on which only partial engineering work has been done. Norn waved a sheet of paper and said, "We have 18 projects on this sheet on which we have only partial engineering. . . whether it is his (Kleeberger's) fault or not, I don't know. . . my argument is that these motor fuel tax projects should be completed."

Waiting on State

Kleeberger responded that "the city council has authorized more projects than it has money for. The work is completed on many of these projects and has gone to the state. I'm waiting for them just like everyone else."

Alderman Paul Rutledge told Norn: "If we authorize a lot of work and he does it whether the money is there or not, it's not his (Kleeberger's) fault."

The Research Planning and Design Associates firm works under a retainer with the city, providing consulting and administrative service for $4800 per year. The city has not had an appointed city engineer for several years.

Norn and Alderman Steve Basarich cast the only "no" votes against renewal of the contract. The motion for approval carried 11 to 2.

Council members also approved Monday night, with only one negative vote, a motion to purchase a new street grader on a low price of $24,500 by the O. B. Avery Co.

The vote followed discussion in which Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Street and Alley committee pointed out the purchase would have to be made before the end of this month if the city were to take advantage of the bid price. He said he was informed prices will increase considerably at that time.

A method by which the new grader could be financed partially with motor fuel tax funds was discussed. Mayor Partney explained that motor fuel tax monies could not be used for purchase of equipment directly, but that the city could apply MFT funds as rental toward equipment used on streets that qualify for motor fuel tax maintenance.

As a result the council voted to pay $16,500 of the cost from the street department fund, and then repay the street department that amount in motor fuel tax funds for rental of the grader in its use on MFT-maintained streets.

Ill. Power Again Notes Need for More Natural Gas

The Federal Power Commission this week was urged again by Illinois Power Co. to provide natural gas suppliers in the U. S. with price incentives necessary to begin immediate development and production of additional natural gas to meet the growing demands of industrial, commercial and residential users.

R. A. Blakeney, Illinois Power vice-president, delivered a statement at a regional hearing by the FPC in Chicago Monday on price rates and ceilings for future sales of natural gas in all areas of the U. S. except Alaska and Hawaii.

Unless additional gas is made available to Illinois Power by its pipeline suppliers, "there are many potential customers in our territory who will require gas for air pollution abatement and other commercial and industrial applications which we will not be able to serve," Blakeney said.

Deficiency Estimated
On the basis of gas supplies now available and in sight, Illinois Power will have a peak day gas supply deficiency of 25 million cubic feet in the 1970-71 winter, growing to a 250 million cubic feet deficiency for 1975-76, Blakeney noted; annual deficiencies will increase from nearly nine billion cubic feet in 1970 to more than 20 billion in 1975.

Because of limitations of supply, the company has asked the Illinois Commerce Commission to approve a system of priorities limiting its sales of gas to new customers and to present customers requiring additional gas for expanded new uses, Blakeney said.

Increased prices for pipeline suppliers of additional gas supplies in the U. S. would provide the quickest and cheapest method of increasing gas supplies within the next three years, he commented. Other alternatives, such as gas from Canada and the gasification of coal, would take six to 10 years and would prove more costly, Blakeney said.

Price Incentives
"We are of the opinion that increased price incentives for the sale of gas by producers are the main factor that will bring forth sufficient new production to maintain the national reserves-to-production ratio at a sufficient level," Blakeney asserted.

"Additional quantities of natural gas are necessary for the abatement of air pollution and other purposes beneficial to our national economy and the economy of Illinois, and at the same time protect the consumers against charges."

Blakeney pointed out that Illinois Power has been a leader in the formation of the United Distribution Companies Group, consisting of major gas distributors in the Midwest and East which have been urging the FPC to grant additional price incentives to the suppliers on which they must depend for gas for their customers.

Dial-a-Prayer Service Here

A "dial-a-prayer" service was begun this week in the Quad City area under sponsorship of Unity Chapel, Stratford and Village lanes.

Under this new program, anyone at any time of the day or night may receive a message of "comfort and prayerful inspiration" by dialing 767-0775.

"The dial-a-prayer program has been formulated with the belief that prayer offers the real solution to individual problems and challenges, and that many in our community may find a daily resource, or assistance in time of need, through this service," a spokesman said.

Unity Chapel is affiliated with the Unity School of Christianity, which sponsors the world-renowned "silent unity" prayer ministry — a 24-hour-a-day continuous prayer ministry headquartered at Kansas City, Mo., in which hundreds of calls from all parts of the world are received each day for prayer and assistance of various kinds.

Rev. Harvey Humes is minister of Unity Chapel, where worship services are held each Sunday at 10 a.m.

LT. GOV. PAUL SIMON

There are Colleges with Openings

Young people in Illinois who have applied to large state universities and cannot get in, have two choices, both of which are good.

One is to apply to a junior college, and the other is to go to a private college or university.

Many of the small colleges have space and are eager for additional students.

Two examples have come across my desk just recently. One is McKendree College in Lebanon, Illinois, and the other is Barst College in Lake Forest, Illinois. Both are four-year liberal arts colleges, fully accredited, and respected.

But neither is widely known and there is no rush of students to schools like McKendree and Barst. Because the budgets of these schools are based on full student enrollments, both schools are along with virtually all private colleges—are facing some major financial problems.

McKendree is a Methodist college by background, but is open to anyone. Barst is Catholic by background, but is open to anyone, but is a girls' school.

Most of the other excellent private colleges in the state face exactly the same enrollment situation facing McKendree and Barst.

From the state's viewpoint it would be helpful to fill the private colleges, because it is less expensive for the state.

The junior colleges are another possibility for the student who wants to go to college but is experiencing difficulty.

Even though you live in an area which does not have a junior college, you pay a small property tax which is used as tuition for students in the area who wish to go to a public junior college within the state.

All of this means that even at this late date, a student can get into college.

Moving Expenses Are Deductible If Related to a Change in Jobs

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

The Federal Tax Reform Act of 1969 offers some good news to the taxpayer who moves. It allows a deduction for the cost of moving house-hunting trips and temporary living expenses at the new location if the move is related to a change in jobs.

For the first time, the federal income taxpayer will be allowed to claim most, if not all, of his moving expenses or move-related expenses as deductions when figuring his income tax for 1970.

The move must result from a change in the location of the taxpayer's principal place of work to a point at least 50 miles farther away from his home than his old job location.

And the taxpayer must move to a new home in full faith that he will be employed at the new location, or its vicinity, for at least 39 weeks during the first 12 months following the move.

If those conditions exist, the new tax law allows the taxpayer to claim deductions for the following five categories:

1. Actual cost of moving household goods and personal effects.
2. Traveling expenses of the taxpayer and his family from their old residence to the new one, including meals, lodging and, if travel is by automobile, a five-cent-per-mile transportation allowance plus tolls and parking fees.
3. Pre-move house-hunting trips.
4. Temporary living expenses at the new job location (up to 30 days).
5. Expenses of selling, purchasing or lease of a residence.

There is no limit to deductions which may be claimed for legitimate expenses under the first two categories; the actual household goods moving costs

Sick Leave for Municipal Employees Ought To Be Focused on Its Fundamental Purpose

Amendment of Granite City municipal sick leave regulations is long overdue and city fathers are right in moving to end abuses and also to enshrine the purpose of the sick leave program.

The real test of any sick leave program is whether it is functioning as intended—to allow for those occasions when employees are too ill to work. The word "sick" is easily defined; it does not mean "whim," "day off" or "extra vacation."

City council meeting discussions have spotlighted a consensus among officials that there have been many instances in which an employee paired a day or two of sick leave with a weekend or with scheduled days-off and then called in for one or two vacation days.

The manpower and operating problems created by these practices can be enormous, and such an attitude by a minority of employees diverts attention from the important objective of performing services at the time the services are needed and in the most effective possible way.

It is not the easiest matter for elected officials to remedy, since pressures sometimes develop without much relation to facts, fair play or sound procedure nor is it easy for employee groups to relinquish benefits. But all parties have a clear duty to act—city sick leave is to be restored to its original purpose.

Annual Acceleration of Scheduled Events In Quad-Cities Will Begin This Weekend

There really is no "summer lull" in the Quad-Cities any more, of course. Life goes on 24 hours a day throughout the year, and if people do not make news in one way, they will make it in another.

The Granite City Rotary Club will hold its annual Modern Living Show from tomorrow through Sunday at the Wilson Park ice rink.

Two other major events are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday at the Mitchell Amphitheater, the annual festival of the Mitchell Amphitheater and the annual fall festival of the Mitchell Amphitheater.

Section 217 of the Tax Reform Act also provides, for the first time, for moving expense deductions for self-employed individuals as well as by employees.

Self-employed persons may qualify for the same deductions provided they perform personal services—such as a full-time personal effort—for a full-time basis, either as a sole proprietor or partner in a business.

To qualify for the deductions, the self-employed person must reasonably believe, at the time of the move, that his business will require him to be at the new location for at least 39 weeks during the first two years following the move, or the first 12 months.

Dr. Bovet estimates a potential market for desalination equipment for public water supplies of several hundred million dollars in 1970, and probably well over one billion dollars before 1980.

To this he adds the sizable markets for desalination equipment applied to industrial water supplies. Desalination is a two-year study commissioned by the OSW and conducted by the U.S. Army, Waukegan, Wis.

Various industrial areas were studied to find which yielded technically recoverable byproducts with commercial value equal to or in excess of desalting costs.

Economically feasible or profitable recovery of by-products was found in six areas: cheese and dairy pulp and paper, iron and steel, plating and metal finishing, nuclear power plants, acid mine drainage (coal mining).

An estimated potential one-time market for desalting equipment of $1.55 billion is foreseen by the study, with an anticipated $1.55 billion being spent between now and 1975, 2000 million of Quad-City's always interesting and busy schedule of organized and sponsored community gatherings and programs.

The remainder of 1970 is certain to be eventful—an appropriate prelude to 1971, the 75th anniversary of Granite City.

United Fund Volunteers Busy Setting the Stage for the Annual Campaign in October

Although the principal public portion of the yearly United Fund campaign will take place during October, it is reassuring to know that UF volunteers have been active this summer, drawing up a 1971 budget and performing many of the countless tasks that form the ingredients of a successful fund-raising effort of major proportions.

Literally hundreds of people have been helping and their number will grow into the thousands before the goal has been achieved. All are stressing the theme that the United Fund is not primarily an entity in itself but the pooling of the people and services and financial resources of the 20 member agencies.

Just as ecologists have adapted an old military slogan to say "we have found the enemy (polluters) and it is us," it is clear that there is no "they" to praise or blame for local U.F. progress. The United Fund, in every way, is "us." Everybody (Quad-City residents, workers, businesses and groups) benefits; everybody shares the obligation to contribute.

Foot in Political Door for Educational Tv (Blue Hill, Maine, Weekly Packet)

The Maine Supreme Court, in ruling that Maine's educational television network could not prevent local TV stations from broadcasting political views, has opened the door to use of the network for propaganda.

When the city network was initially proposed there were those who opposed it on the basis that, being completely government operated, it could be used—at taxpayer expense—simply to promote the line of whoever happened to be in power at the time.

In an effort to allay these fears, the sponsors wrote the clause in the enabling legislation preventing the network from promoting a political position.

A few years ago this clause was used to terminate the practice of broadcasting the governor's press conferences.

Most recently it was cited by Attorney General Jim Erwin as the reason the network could not conduct a planned television debate between gubernatorial candidates. The debate would have involved Erwin, the GOP candidate, and Democratic Gov. Kenneth Curtis.

Erwin joined the University of Maine, which operates the network, and he took himself in seeking a ruling from Maine's top court. It reversed Erwin's position by throwing out the section of law that made it illegal for the network to be used for political activity.

In essence, the Maine court said the law was in conflict with federal laws which require FCC license holders (and all radio and television stations) to be open to all comers to devote a certain amount of time to public affairs.

Since political considerations are inseparable from most areas of public concern, the network could not fulfill the terms of the law with the restrictive state law. The federal law, it said, took priority over Maine's regulations.

The ruling declared as necessary exactly what those who oppose government control of the airwaves for political purposes at taxpayers expense.

Disallowing a debate between political candidates because each would be presenting a political view is a somewhat strained interpretation of what the law was initially designed to prevent.

But in remedying that flaw, the Maine Supreme Court has handed a powerful political weapon to the officials who control it, and who can now use it to promote themselves, their schemes and their ideologies with impunity.

Desalting Process Can Clean Many Industrial Wastes, Expert Reports

(American Chemical Society)

Between 1975 and 1980, and $2.2 billion after 1980.

The cheese and dairy industries are an important potential source of desalination equipment for byproducts recovery," according to the study.

In cheese-making, 1.25 billion pounds of whey solids are released annually in dairy water, about 70% is wasted and constitutes a pollution problem.

"Whey contains a high concentration of nutrients, including milk protein and milk sugar. It also contains about 6000 parts per million of soluble salts. According to the Aqua-Chem study, the salt can be eliminated by a combination of desalination techniques.

"The study estimates that a mere 1% of whey is being thus treated for human consumption today, although the technology is at hand. A high protein food product can be produced with a market value of about 25 cents a pound, at a processing cost of only 10 cents a pound, Aqua-Chem estimates.

The study foresees a sales potential including use in infant formulas and synthetic milk products—of as much as $300 million annually, if all whey products are recovered.

"The OSW-sponsored study finds that the largest potential application of desalination is for human consumption in the pulp and paper industry. Wood pulping and paper production generate substantial volumes of water-borne wastes. Only one of each tree is used as pulp.

"The total estimated market for desalination equipment for pulp and paper industry would total at least $745 million, about $173 million before the end of the decade.

"The Waukesha Co. also calculates a unit value of byproducts of five to 10 cents per pound, depending on applications and markets developed, and unit processing cost of five to 10 cents per pound.

"Iron and steel production generates several processing chemicals which can pollute waterways and which are amenable to recovery by desalination techniques.

"Aqua-Chem calculates that unit value of the byproducts would balance the unit process cost of 7.2 cents per pound (in terms of pounds of iron). Although any profit would probably only when the products recovery would pay the cost of pollution control.

"The plating and metal finishing industries produce a variety of toxic waste products, including chromic acid from chromium plating, which can pollute waterways and which are amenable to recovery by desalination techniques.

Taxes a Growing Cause of Concern And Confusion Among Illinoisans

By DAVID HOOD

Student Reporting Project, University of Illinois

A. C. Hurst is a soft-spoken man in his sixties who lives in a medium-sized city in the heart of the Illinois corn belt and owns and rents three old multi-story houses.

Now that he's getting older he doesn't move around as fast as he used to, but he cuts the grass on his properties and does most of the maintenance work himself.

Hurst is by no means a wealthy man, but neither is he poor. He might be considered an average Illinois citizen. He makes enough money from his rental income so that he and his wife live comfortably but not extravagantly.

And, as they do to Mr. Typical Illinois money and taxes mean a great deal to him.

"It's kind of hard to dig up six or seven thousand dollars every year to live on," Hurst says. "I don't complain too much because I think about 80% of my taxes go to schools, and we need schools. Nobody is glad to pay heavy taxes, but the consolation is what we get out of them."

But there are second thoughts.

"We don't really know where our money goes," Hurst says. "The public would like to know more about how its tax money is spent, but the tabulations they get are so complicated that they don't help much, and if you stop and think about it, you could worry yourself to death."

One thing Hurst is sure of: no matter how much tax revenue goes to taxing bodies, they will spend every penny.

"It's like a man who once worked for me," said Hurst. "He quit because he was offered $50 more at another job, and he took that job."

"The first week he had so much money he didn't know what to do with it. The second week he was back to work, and the third week he was back in the hole again. He didn't know where he spent the money, but it went fast."

Hurst and the average citizen are not alone in their confusion about taxes. There are many questions that even tax and finance experts in Illinois profess they cannot answer to—at least not immediately. They know that citizens are often confused about the taxes they pay, but they think some taxes are unfair, and think taxes are too high.

The Illinois Constitution, the document for legitimacy of taxation in Illinois, does not contain much rhetoric about taxes. The rhetoric it does contain, however, provides the basis for all the state county and local government taxes that are levied by those governing agencies.

The Revenue Article in the present constitution was approved in 1870. It gives powers to the legislature to initiate taxes, but it severely limits the rates of some individual taxes.

How to adjust taxing powers to contemporary needs is a problem of considerable complexity faced by members of the Revenue Committee of the Constitutional Convention.

As times have changed, more money is needed to provide more schools and better sewage treatment. Taxpayers want less pollution and more highways.

Local governments, particularly outside of Cook County, want guarantees that they will receive their revenue from personal property taxes on Nov. 3, when voters will decide whether to abolish those taxes, the state will replace those monies from a number of sources. Corporations want guarantees that the present rate on their taxable income will not rise.

Everyone is demanding more services and more expenditures, but no one wants to pay higher taxes. Members of the Revenue Committee were charged with what to place in the new article that will pacify everyone and still provide for the needed revenue. Should personal property taxes be excluded from the article and real estate taxes maintained, or vice versa, or both retained or both abolished?

Should state income taxes be kept at the present rate of 5.5%, respectively, for corporations and individuals, or should constitutional provisions be made to raise one or the other, or both?

Another problem of consequence is what to do about the sales taxes. The sales tax is the major source of revenue for the state.

Almost every commodity sold in the state is subject to a sales tax. Arguments have long been presented by tax payers.

And, as they do to Mr. Typical Illinois money and taxes mean a great deal to him.

"It's kind of hard to dig up six or seven thousand dollars every year to live on," Hurst says. "I don't complain too much because I think about 80% of my taxes go to schools, and we need schools. Nobody is glad to pay heavy taxes, but the consolation is what we get out of them."

But there are second thoughts.

"We don't really know where our money goes," Hurst says. "The public would like to know more about how its tax money is spent, but the tabulations they get are so complicated that they don't help much, and if you stop and think about it, you could worry yourself to death."

One thing Hurst is sure of: no matter how much tax revenue goes to taxing bodies, they will spend every penny.

"It's like a man who once worked for me," said Hurst. "He quit because he was offered $50 more at another job, and he took that job."

"The first week he had so much money he didn't know what to do with it. The second week he was back to work, and the third week he was back in the hole again. He didn't know where he spent the money, but it went fast."

Data on Training For Vets Provided by VA
Veterans desiring information on how to secure apprenticeship training for a skilled trade may secure a new pamphlet at U. S. Veterans Assistance Centers or from the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training.

John B. Naser, director of the VA regional office in Chicago, said the VA is helping the Labor Department's Manpower Administration in the distribution of the pamphlet. The pamphlet points out the VA training allowances for veterans without dependents start at $106 a month, with apprentices receiving at least an additional $2 an hour starting pay in most areas.

The pamphlet lists 79 of some 350 jobs with training periods of two to six years.

The pamphlet, a bright red and white publication, is called "Veterans." It states, "Apprenticeship may be for you if you want to earn as you learn and want a good, secure job future." Copies of the pamphlet may be secured from the VA Regional Office, 3020 West Taylor, P. O. Box 8136, Chicago, 60680.

M. He is enrolled in the leadership training conference, part of a national training program organized by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Taylor serves as a scoutmaster in the Cahokia Mound Council. The course, taught at the Philmont Training Center in the foothills of the Sangre de Cristo mountains, is one of 25 courses that will be offered to more than 1000 volunteer scout leaders this summer.

Accompanying the scouters while they are in training are more than 4000 members of their families, taking part in activities offered for all age groups. Attending some of the special programs available for women, Mrs. Taylor is sharing the study-vacation period with her husband and their children, Cynthia, Charles and Richard.

In addition to adult training, more than 17,000 Explorers and older Boy Scouts will be visiting the 24-square mile ranch this summer to take 12-day high adventure expeditions into rugged mountain country. Among the activities available are burro pack trips, gold panning, gold mine tours, mountaineering and archeological digging and study.

Trained Staff Needed to Cope With Park Problems

Sixteen park and recreational professionals have been hired from park systems to manage state parks and memorials since last January, Dan Malkovich, acting Director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, said today.

He said the policy of the department in its many aspects of fish, game, forestry, historical memorials, and conservation education is to employ a highly trained technical staff of biologists, propagators, foresters, landscape architects, engineers, historians, archaeologists, writers, recreation administrators, and conservation educators.

"Technical people employed by the Department of Conservation are hired according to Personnel Code rules," Malkovich said. "This means graduation from an accredited college. All candidates must pass an examination before they may be permanently employed."

"Trained personnel are essential to cope with growing problems coming out of accelerated use of state memorials and parks," Malkovich stated. "We must have them to guide us in the proper development and maintenance of these properties. Training institutions, workshops and staff meetings are held monthly in the field for the benefit of park rangers."

State Mental Health County Office Moves

The Department of Mental Health, Madison County Subzone Office, formerly housed in the Alton State Hospital Administration Offices on Route 140, Alton, moved Tuesday to 202A North Main street, Edwardsville.

Three other subzone offices serving the 17 counties of Mental Health Zone VII are located at East St. Louis, Centerville and Olney. Patients from Zone VII who need total hospitalization are served by Alton State Hospital.

The hospital facility which formerly housed the subzone office will have to be vacated soon, as the property has been sold to the city of Alton for a park and recreation area by the State of Illinois.

Edwardsville was selected as the site since the work deals with many of the Madison county governmental offices and it is the county seat.

Other priority functions of the office will be to handle all

VA Home Sales Drop During 1970 Fiscal

The Veterans Administration sold 15,636 homes in fiscal year 1970, according to John B. Naser, director of the VA regional office in Chicago.

For the seventh consecutive fiscal year the VA closed out its books with a lower inventory than the year before. In making the report, Naser said because of the low inventory, sales in fiscal year 1970 were 18 per cent below the 18,959 homes sold in fiscal year 1969.

He noted that 1,404 homes were sold throughout the nation in June, which is 17 per cent more than in the previous month of May.

The VA ended fiscal year 1970 with 10,385 properties on hand, 161 fewer than May's total, and 1,483 below the inventory at the end of fiscal year 1969. The 1970 inventory was the lowest in nine years.

During the past fiscal year the VA acquired 14,480 properties. This was 19 per cent below the 17,941 acquired the previous fiscal year, and the smallest number fiscal year 1969 when 10,965 were acquired.

Naser explained that houses acquired by the VA were financed originally with G. I. loans, but the owners failed to keep up mortgage payments.

Naser pointed out that veterans have proved to be good credit risks. Only about three per cent of the nearly eight million loans approved by the VA since the program began shortly after World War II have defaulted.

Naser said 200,873 applications for home loan guarantees were received in fiscal year 1970, making it the fourth consecutive year the VA has received more than 200,000 credit risks. Only about three

Rules for Kindergarten Pupils on School Buses

Parents of youngsters who will attend kindergarten in the Granite City district are being reminded that the transportation will be furnished if they reside on regular school bus routes.

For the first time this fall, it is mandatory for school systems to offer kindergarten. This also makes it necessary to provide buses for those living one and a half miles or more from public transportation or from the school.

Mothers are to pin to their children's clothing a tag giving the kindergarten pupil's name and address. It is also being suggested that mothers meet their child's bus the first few days until each student has become acquainted with the procedure and neighborhood.

If all instructions fail and a child forgets to get off at the right place the bus driver will take him or her back to school. Parents are being sent letters notifying them of the exact number of the bus to be utilized.

GC Council Beats Second Effort to Pass Police Tax

A second attempt to levy a special tax of five cents for police purposes was defeated soundly by city council members Monday night.

An ordinance that would have extended the special levy under state law was beaten 9 to 4 on a roll call vote when the bill was placed on final passage. It was placed on first reading a week ago.

Alderman Paul Schuler, chairman of the Ordinance committee, presented the measure for second reading and moved for adoption of the levy.

Alderman R. E. Robertson, chairman of the Council Finance committee, protested "adding any new taxes to the already heavy burden of the taxpayers."

Would Raise $106,000
He said the levy would raise about $106,000 when applied against the city's present assessed valuation.

"It isn't necessary," Robertson said. "The police department has lots of money."

Voting in favor of the tax were Aldermen Paul Rutledge, Thomas Boker, Schuler and Charles Moerlen. Aldermen Gerald Parney and Everett Morten were absent.

An effort to obtain final passage of the tax levy in the Aug. 17 council session was blocked when Schuler's motion to suspend the rules and place the ordinance on final passage failed to receive the required 11 votes. Schuler then moved to place the ordinance on first reading. That motion carried by only a slim majority.

Council members a week ago also rejected an ordinance that would have raised the city tax for sewer maintenance from the present two cents to 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Tax Levy Revised
The council refused even to place that bill on first reading. Defeat of the five-cent special tax resulted in a quick revision of figures in the new city tax levy which had been prepared for adoption in Monday's meeting. The levy had been prepared with tax extensions for the police department in two sections, one calling for the special five-cent levy, and the balance of police department costs in the general fund.

A similar attempt to adopt special tax levies for the police and sewer maintenance funds was made, and defeated, when the 1969-70 tax levy was presented a year ago. At that time a third special levy increase, one amounting to five cents for the fire department, also was proposed. It, too, was defeated.

LEE ROY JONES

Jones Returns from Farm-City Conference

Lee Roy Jones, 309 Mercedia street, of the Cahokia Mound Council, has returned from participating in a Farm-City Conference at the Philmont Training Center, Cimarron, N. Mex., for which he received a scholarship from the Boy Scouts of America.

The scholarship for him and his wife was awarded on the basis of outstanding leadership in scouting, church, civic and other community organizations.

The Boy Scouts of America launched this program 15 years ago as a means of paying tribute to the thousands of service- and community-minded men across America who give through the scouting movement so much of their lives as volunteer leaders to boys. Only 140 men from all 50 states received scholarships this year.

Purpose of the conferences is to study the newest and most effective program ideas and outreach methods relevant to the changing population characteristics of rural and urban America as a part of the Boy Scout's 76 program of the Boy Scouts.

The goal of scouting is to prepare boys to achieve their full adult potential as responsible citizens, and a trained scout leader is considered the key to achieving this goal. The men who have received Philmont Farm-City Scholar-

City Attorney Status Challenged Again

The embattled issue of whether Leon Scroggins is or is not the Granite City attorney flared again on the council floor Monday night when Scroggins appeared at the council session for the first time since he resigned in early July—and was refused approval of his salary and expense vouchers for the last half of August.

Scroggins' status as city attorney was challenged frequently throughout the meeting, although council members introduced a tax levy bill that had been prepared within the past few weeks by the attorney. Scroggins was on hand at the council session apparently because of protests in previous meetings that so long as he maintains he still is serving the city he should be present at council sessions.

When the regular bill was submitted for approval by Alderman R. E. Robertson, chairman of the finance committee, Robertson moved for removal of an expense item of $75 for Scroggins. The motion was approved without discussion.

Robertson then submitted the payroll for the last half of August, including a salary of $230 for Scroggins. Alderman Charles Moerlen moved for separation of Scroggins' salary from the payroll list.

Alderman Steve Basarich asked Scroggins what he intended to do if his salary was held up.

Will Seek Advice
Scroggins replied that he intends to confer with his insurance representative and determine if he should continue to serve the city in accordance with a state law that Scroggins says requires him to continue in the job until he is replaced.

"If they believe I should fulfill the obligation, then I will continue to serve and then I will see the city to collect my pay," Scroggins said.

ship recognition have made the scouting goal effective in the lives of the boys in their respective communities. They represent more than 1.5 million other volunteer scout leaders throughout the nation who are making similar contributions to boys.

Jones has been an active adult scout leader for the past 20 years. Before assuming his present position for assistant Uniwah district commissioner, he had served as cubmaster, scoutmaster and explorer advisor. He is an assistant superintendent of Sunday school, an executive board member of the Equal Opportunities Commission and a member of the Dunbar school Parent-Teacher Association.

"I don't think I want to go to court again," Basarich said. The controversy between Scroggins and the council grows out of the new city budget in which the finance committee, a month ago, cut the appropriation for the city attorney's salary from $12,000 a year to $6,000 and the salary of the assistant city attorney from $6,000 to $3,000.

Scroggins told the council before adoption of the budget that he would resign the post if the cut remained in effect in the final budget draft. The council approved the salary cuts in final approval of the appropriation bill. Scroggins sent a letter of resignation to the council.

On Old Salary
The attorney and Mayor Donald Partney, who appointed Scroggins, maintain, however, that a state law requires an officer to continue serving the city until he is replaced. Scroggins insists this means that he continue at his old salary. He has told the council he is working on that basis.

Council members voted acceptance of the attorney's resignation, but Partney points out he has not accepted Scroggins' resignation. Since he was the one who appointed the attorney, and has the authority to keep him in the post, Scroggins therefore still is city attorney, according to the mayor.

Alderman Walter Nann told Scroggins that "you told me yourself that a job and its salary is controlled by the budget. You told me once that if we wanted to eliminate a job, all we had to do was take it out of the budget. . . now you say you can be paid on your old salary basis when there isn't enough money in the appropriation."

Actually, Scroggins had been paid about half of the current appropriation for his salary before the new budget was passed. The city's fiscal year ends April 30, but the budget was not passed until the latter part of July. Scroggins, meanwhile, had drawn three months pay at slightly more than $1,000 per month. Council members point out this leaves only $3,000 of the $6,000 appropriation for a city attorney.

The council voted to separate Scroggins' salary from the payroll list by a vote of 11 to 2, with Aldermen Basarich and Thomas Boker voting "no".

Robertson then moved that Scroggins' salary not be paid. That motion carried 9 to 4, with negative votes cast by Aldermen Paul Rutledge, Sam Whitmer, Basarich and Boker. The same four aldermen also voted against a motion that Scroggins' expense account not be paid, which also carried 9 to 4. Thirteen council members attended. Gerald Parmley and Everett Morien were absent.

Attempted Motor Theft
Thieves attempted to steal a 65 horsepower motor from a boat parked in a garage at 2459 Delmar avenue, it was reported Monday. Some wires connecting the motor to the boat were cut. The owner was listed as Willis Bowers, 2776 Madison avenue.

BOARD OF REALTORS ARE LISTED

YOUR "REALTOR" HAS THE KNOW HOW!!

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST TO SELL A HOME? A good question, and no one should attempt to answer it without thorough knowledge of the situation. Six per cent is the normal REALTOR'S commission, but what about abstracting costs, service charges, taxes, legal fees, surveying, etc.? Your Realtor will generally know the answer to these and many other questions. Because of his thorough knowledge of all these factors, he may actually save you money and surely a lot of trouble.

It costs nothing to list and advertise your home for sale, unless, of course, it sells. Call one of the REALTORS on this page and let him discuss your needs. All of the REALTORS listed below are members of your Local, State and National REAL ESTATE BOARDS.

Red Spiders on Marigolds

A sudden fading and mottling of the upper leaves is often due to red spiders.

Normal flowers with mottled and gray foliage is typical of red spiders on marigolds with yellow crowns and greenish flowers are symptoms of a virus. Both are a disaster to marigolds but red spiders can be controlled by spraying.

Red spiders are minute spiders which feed on the leaves of many trees, shrubs, flowers and vegetables. They are small active creatures about the size of specks of pepper. In spite of their small size they can be seen when the infestation becomes heavy.

The mites vary from almost

Waterweeds in Ponds

Waterweeds and pond scum can be controlled without killing the fish or tampering with the normal ecology.

Waterweed control with chemicals and proper management depends on seasonal observations to predict the growth and prudent treatment before the problem becomes acute. Late summer treatment is more likely to predict the extent of the problem, product to use and effect on the fish.

15 years of research on control of aquatic weeds in Illinois is incorporated in the revised publication, "Aquatic Weeds: Their Identification and Control", Fisheries Bulletin #4, issued by the Department of Conservation.

Proper identification of the weed species is the key to success. Early season treatment produces better results when the plants are tender and small. Late summer treatment is risky because of critical oxygen levels in the water. Mature weeds in August use up oxygen instead of producing it. Late season treatment can kill fish while the dying weeds overload the natural system and remove too much oxygen.

If you want to begin a management program, visit your local Cooperative Extension Service office for a copy of Fisheries Bulletin #4 and begin to work on weed identification. If you have to bring in samples, use large mason jars. We can help with identification and a plan for next years program.

Spray For Scale

Oystershell and Eumonyssus scale can be controlled if you use material in late August or early September. Both pests, on ornamental shrubs develop a second generation in August. Oystershell scale produces a gray scurf appearance on a variety of shrubs and trees. Lilac, apple and coniferous are often affected. Eumonyssus scale appears on eumonyssus and pascandras as white flecks on the undersides of the leaves.

Two spray applications of malathion at weekly intervals in late August will reduce the problem. Repeat the treatment in early June! When treating outdoors ground covers, concentrate on the undersides of the leaves.

Late Summer Pruning

Late summer pruning and fall rains often stimulate pruned shrubs to produce a rapid growth when maturing wood and winter dormancy usually occurs. Off season stimulation can be a disaster if an early freeze or zero weather finds these tender plants before they mature.

If you have not pruned your plants and feel there is a need, then postpone this project until early winter or early spring.

A Note About Flies

Flies in garages, breezeways and workshops can be thinned out or nearly wiped out without the use of insecticides. These hanging strips are not sticky but attract flies when they land on them. Within a few minutes the chemical causes the fly to drop and eventually die.

Dimethyl bands should be wiped every two weeks with a damp rag to remove dust. The bands will remain effective for a year or more.

Lawn Mowers and Trees

Mowing close to trees takes a lot of patience to avoid injury and permanent injury.

You can simplify the mowing and promote better growth by creating a weed-free area around your tree. A garden hoe is an ideal tool to remove grass and weeds without injury the roots.

Never use a spade or fork to keep up the soil. Deep cultivation with a shovel causes severe root damage, often stunts young trees and sometimes kills new trees.

Patio stones or gravel provides a nice mulch to control grass and keeps mowers at a distance. Weed and grass control close to trees means less competition for water and fertilizer.

Oystershell and Eumonyssus scale can be controlled if you use material in late August or early September. Both pests, on ornamental shrubs develop a second generation in August. Oystershell scale produces a gray scurf appearance on a variety of shrubs and trees. Lilac, apple and coniferous are often affected. Eumonyssus scale appears on eumonyssus and pascandras as white flecks on the undersides of the leaves.

Two spray applications of malathion at weekly intervals in late August will reduce the problem. Repeat the treatment in early June! When treating outdoors ground covers, concentrate on the undersides of the leaves.

Late Summer Pruning

Late summer pruning and fall rains often stimulate pruned shrubs to produce a rapid growth when maturing wood and winter dormancy usually occurs. Off season stimulation can be a disaster if an early freeze or zero weather finds these tender plants before they mature.

If you have not pruned your plants and feel there is a need, then postpone this project until early winter or early spring.

A Note About Flies

Flies in garages, breezeways and workshops can be thinned out or nearly wiped out without the use of insecticides. These hanging strips are not sticky but attract flies when they land on them. Within a few minutes the chemical causes the fly to drop and eventually die.

Dimethyl bands should be wiped every two weeks with a damp rag to remove dust. The bands will remain effective for a year or more.

Lawn Mowers and Trees

Mowing close to trees takes a lot of patience to avoid injury and permanent injury.

You can simplify the mowing and promote better growth by creating a weed-free area around your tree. A garden hoe is an ideal tool to remove grass and weeds without injury the roots.

Never use a spade or fork to keep up the soil. Deep cultivation with a shovel causes severe root damage, often stunts young trees and sometimes kills new trees.

Patio stones or gravel provides a nice mulch to control grass and keeps mowers at a distance. Weed and grass control close to trees means less competition for water and fertilizer.

Music Festival to Feature 'Pop' Groups

A day-long music festival, divided into an afternoon session held outdoors and an evening indoor program, will take place Saturday under auspices of the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Committee and the Polychromatic Umbrella Coffee House.

The public is invited to attend the festival which will feature the artistry of local groups performing jazz, folk, rock and soul music, a spokesman for the committee said today.

Saturday's afternoon segment will be staged from 2 to 7 p.m. at Lee Park, at the rear of the Venice Community Center on Broadway. At 7 p.m., festival participants will reconvene at the Polychromatic Umbrella Coffee House facility, located at 310 Madison avenue, Madison.

Quad-City residents may view the festival without charge, according to Kenneth Aud of the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Committee. The spokesman noted, however, that free-will donations will be taken at both sessions, with proceeds to be used toward future cultural and youth activities planned by the two sponsoring groups.

In event of inclement weather on Saturday, the entire program will be presented at the coffee house facility, Aud said.

Final Fine Arts Program Of Season Monday night

The entire company from Southern Illinois University Performing Arts Training Center will join with local ethnic entertainment groups and other area youths Monday evening to present the final program in the summer series of cultural presentations sponsored by the Venice-Madison Fine Arts Committee.

Kenneth Aud, a spokesman for the local committee, said the concluding program will be offered at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Venice-Lincoln Center, 300 South 4th street, Venice. The public is invited without charge.

Participating will be staff members and students from the SIU Performing Arts Center, the Happy Strings Junior Tamburitzans of Granite City, the St. Stanislaus Polish Youth Dancers of Madison and youngsters who have attended vocal and dance instruction classes conducted in the Venice area this summer.

Aud noted that the SIU Performing Arts Company, consisting of 20 dancers, will be under the direction of Miss Katherine Dunham, SIU center director and widely-acclaimed artist.

Organized 3 Years Ago
Sponsored by the Croatian Fraternal Union, Lodge 222, the Happy Strings Tamburitzans group was organized three years ago. The local youngsters, under the supervision of Ivan Lusci Jr., recently took part in the fourth annual "Tamburitzas Festival" at Pueblo, Colo., and last Saturday gave three performances at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield.

Close to 50 youngsters are members of the St. Stanislaus dance group, organized under the auspices of the Polish Roman Catholic Union to encourage and preserve the heritage, culture and traditions of the children's Polish ancestry.

The Madison Lodge, now located at the Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood street, has been in existence for more than 50 years. Lodge members have been responsible for promoting numerous sports and youth activities in the Quad-Cities.

In addition to youngsters from Venice and Madison who have participated in dance and vocal music classes at the Venice community center this summer, the program also will include Henry Rhodes of Venice, a popular-style vocalist.

Aud said Monday evening's program will provide one of the few opportunities for local residents to view entertainment by performers from widely different ethnic backgrounds appearing in a single production.

Change in Law Requires State Reveal Deposits

A little noted but highly significant change in law regulating the office of Illinois state treasurer now requires a full public disclosure of locations and amounts of all the treasurer's investment accounts, State Sen. Alan J. Dixon of Belleville, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer, said today. Senator Dixon was chief sponsor of a bill which made this public disclosure mandatory by the state treasurer.

These long overdue changes are the first substantive ones made in the state treasurer's office in the last 60 years, the senator said.

"If this legal requirement had been in effect in the last 60 years, we would not have seen as much abuse of personal responsibilities by many past state treasurers," he said.

Senator Dixon explained that the present state treasurer, Adlai Stevenson III, has established a policy of full public disclosure. "However, this policy was dictated by Treasurer Stevenson's good judgment and was not required by any law," he added.

Must Disclose Deposits
Under the recently passed Dixon bill, the state treasurer must now disclose how much of the state's money is on deposit, in what bank it is deposited in, and what interest rate is being paid on each of those deposits," Senator Dixon said.

The bill also included other substantive changes which Senator Dixon said "All talk of politics which formerly surrounded the award of state deposits by the treasurer is now eliminated. This establishes a thorough protective measure for the citizens of Illinois whose money is handled by the Treasurer."

As a result of this change, a record statistic is now a matter of public record for all citizens or group of citizens, Senator Dixon explained.

"As a practicing attorney and a Director of one of the larger downstate banks (First National Bank of Belleville), I have had the opportunity to observe that this change and the others are welcomed and widely supported by the banking community," Senator Dixon said.

Pedestrian Overpass At SIU is Stymied

Setbacks continue to stymie completion of a pedestrian overpass on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The latest one, a strike by Teamster's union truck drivers against area concrete companies, will shut out possibilities that the 600-foot long overpass can be opened by the start of school this fall, according to C. W. Peebles, assistant to the chancellor.

The overpass crosses the Illinois Central Railroad tracks and Route 51 at one of the busiest pedestrian intersections on the campus. Construction finally was started this spring after delays that had plagued the project since its conception in 1965.
